Attention moves through cues, observations, and memory delays